"The Gentle War" is the latest innovative release by contemporary jazz trio Misinterprotato.

Building on concepts presented in their last album Variations, "The Gentle War" is a work of finely focused material. Modern and increasingly daring, it features the trio's distinctive sounds of dense rhythmic interactions mixed with gentle melodic statements. Piano, bass and drums interact in fluid ways, evoking an intricate dialogue between the instruments.

Recording took place in the serene surrounds of Tallebudgera QLD, and was mixed in Minneapolis, USA by revered producer/engineer Brent Sigmeth. The resultant album is a bold step forward for the group cementing their place as an ensemble with an inventive and ground breaking approach to music making.

Simultaneously thunderous and hushed, "The Gentle War" is remarkably compelling. It is contemporary trio music at it's finest, jazz influenced while creating a new sound free of comparisons and consistently surprising in its creativity.

Out now on Jazzhead.
